Keep a Close Watch on Baby with Summer Infant™ Monitors

A Wide Range of Monitors Keeps Parents in Touch

Lincoln, RI (May 23, 2005) – Summer Infant™ provides the tools to always keep parents connected to their baby. Summer's wide range of monitors makes it easy to choose the right one for every need. Whether that need is to hear baby from anywhere in the home or have the added security of visually seeing your baby as well, Summer's comprehensive lineup imparts the confidence moms and dads seek.

Monitoring devices can be categorized into audio monitors and video monitors. Summer Infant's lineup this year features both affordable and premium choices. They make the decision easy by offering a variety of solutions. Jason Macari, President of Summer Infant states, "baby is sleeping peacefully, yet parents still feel an unexplained anxiety. Having their child out-of-reach is difficult when their protective instinct is prevailing. Our products help them to stay in touch and keep that peace-of-mind knowing they can keep a close watch on their children at all times."

AUDIO MONITORS

NEW! Secure Sounds 2.4 GHz Digital Monitor – Digital technology at an affordable price. Now moms and dads can rest assured that every sound that is made between the baby's unit and the parent's unit is only heard by them. This monitor provides a secure and private transmission, and eliminates interference. Parent's unit also includes a recharging base and rechargeable battery. Baby's unit includes a back-up battery pack in case of a power failure. Great contemporary styling too!

- Available in October for a suggested retail price of $59.99

Baby's Quiet Sounds™ 900 MHz Audio Monitor – Affordable quality and 900 MHz technology for superior clarity and range. Parent's unit features rechargeable batteries and baby's unit features soft touch nightlight. Two channel selection, sound lights and adapters also included.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $29.99

Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Healthy Nursery Baby Monitor – A new and smart way to keep baby safe. Research findings indicate that overheating your baby with too much clothing or too warm of a room temperature may increase the risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. This 900 MHz audio and health monitor lets parents monitor their baby's sounds and room environment remotely. The parent's unit features an LCD display that shows the current, high and low temperature and humidity readings in the baby's room. It also has a timer for feeding and medications schedules, rechargeable battery, and nightlight. A portion of this product's sales are donated to the First Candle/SIDS Alliance organization as part of their "Gifts the Give" program.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $39.99

VIDEO MONITORS

NEW! Dual Scanning Video Monitor – The perfect solution for parents who wish to monitor two rooms and/or two children at the same time. This monitor includes two cameras with Auto-Scan feature; automatic 5-second scanning between rooms. 2.4 GHz technology and four channel selection provides the best in clarity and range. Night vision allows parents to see baby in a darkened room, and a convenient video on/off button that keeps mom and dad in touch, but without unnecessarily disturbing their sleep.

- Available in October for a suggested retail price of $149.99

Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Video Monitor – Up-to-date colors gives this affordable classic a new presence in today's homes. Other improvements have been made as well for better clarity and range. Night vision, 900 MHz technology, two channel selection, sound lights, and video on/off button are just some of the features that make this item a staple.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $99.99

Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Video Monitor Set – A twist on the classic, this monitor also includes a parent's audio unit with belt clip. So parents can hear baby at all times.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $129.99

Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Handheld Video Monitor – When portability is key, look no further than the Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Handheld Video Monitor with Night Vision and the Baby's Quiet Sounds™ Color Video Monitor. The former features a 1.8" color TFT screen and the latter a 2.5" screen. Both put parents at ease by giving them a small lightweight receiver with belt clip to have baby in sight every moment. Each one offers all of the features of the larger video monitor and also includes a rechargeable battery that lasts up to 10 hours. Power saver feature times out after 3 minutes.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $169.99 and $199.99 respectively

Automobile Monitor – Now drivers can monitor their children without dangerously turning around. Summer's Automobile Monitor features a camera that attaches to a variety of car seat headrests and a parent's unit that has a 2.5" screen which easily mounts to the dashboard. It is powered by the car's power outlet and contains night vision as well. This monitor is great for rear-facing infants and children in third row seats.

- Available now for a suggested retail price of $169.99
